

FREE SUGAR ASSURED IN TARIFF REVISION

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE
TAKES UP PLANS OF HOUSE DEMOCRATS.

EXCISE TAX PROPOSED

To Raise Revenue Which Will Offset
That Lost by Abolishing Tariff
Upon Sugar.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The free sugar plan of the house democrats regarded by leaders as one of the virtually assured features of the tariff revision program of the coming extra session of congress so far as the house is concerned, focused attention on today's hearing before the ways and means committee.

The house democrats claim that placing sugar on the free list may save American consumers $17,000,000 annually while the republicans charging that free sugar would surrender an important industry to foreign importers and assert it would deprive the government of more than $52,000,000 revenue.

Excise Tax Bill.
The free sugar proposition is coupled with the excise tax bill as an offset to loss in revenue. Meanwhile in two more states ratify the income tax amendment to the constitution the excise tax bill will not be pressed.

The tentative basis of revision is the free sugar schedule of the last session that failed of agreement between the two houses and would admit free of duty sugar, tank bottoms, syrup of cane juice, melado, concentrated melado, concrete and concentrated molasses, molasses generally, maple, sugar maple syrup, refined syrup, glucose or grape sugar and sugar cane.

It would tax saccharine 65 cents a pound, sugar candy and other confectionery valued at 15 cents a pound or less and sugars after being refined when tinted or colored or in any way adulterated two cents a pound if it valued at more than 15 cents a pound 25 percent ad valorem.

Not Sure of Senate.
The tariff on sugar now amounts to about 1 1/2 cents a pound, says the democrats in basing their estimate of the effect of the free sugar proposition. The house leaders are not sure of free sugar in the senate.

Speedy examination of the remaining witnesses and an early termination of the money trust inquiry was planned today by the house committee investigating the financial situation. Chairman Pujo of the committee declared he hoped to close the hearings by the end of the week.

"Free sugar while present production is maintained," he said will drop prices here so low as to destroy the Louisiana industry. The beet sugar industry, particularly east of the Mississippi river; would depress Porto Rico and Philippine sugars far below their production cost and make Hawaiian production unprofitable, thus largely curtailing our present source of supply.

"Once this production is so reduced," declared Mr. Atkins, "foreign prices would advance until domestic producers could again enter the field, and meanwhile disaster would be wide spread and consumers would get but a temporary benefit."

Albert C. Burrage, of Boston, testified he was one of the original organizers of the Amalgamated Copper Company in 1896. He named as his assistants in the deal William Rockefeller, Marcus Daly, H. H. Rogers and other financiers. Mr. Burrage could not remember how much was made by the organizers, in turning over the various properties to the Amalgamated.

"Was the profit seventy-five million dollars?" asked Mr. Burrage. "I could not say," Mr. Burrage replied. He could not remember his own profit, but made by Thomas W. Lawson, William Rockefeller or Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Burrage said he got his profit in securities, so far as he could remember and did not get any Butte, Boston, or Boston Montana. "Will you say that your profit was not more than five million dollars?" asked Mr. Untermyer. "I could not say," answered Mr. Burrage. He knew of no records of the deal.

Dr. Richardson testified that in his opinion William Rockefeller would be able to testify for an hour or two. He added, however, that were he Mr. Rockefeller's physician he would endeavor to protect him against such a strain. Chairman Pujo announced to the committee would decide later whether to insist on the testimony.

Dr. Richardson said that he examined Mr. Rockefeller at Miami, Fla., on Sunday, January 12, that no one else was present and that he spent an hour with him. The affidavit presented by Dr. Chappell, Mr. Rockefeller's physician, he said did not fully state the case. "Mr. Rockefeller's condition is more serious than would be supposed from reading Dr. Chappell's affidavit," said the witness. Dr. Richardson said that the right vocal cord of the oil magnate was practically gone and that the left was badly affected. He said he found Mr. Rockefeller's pulse 100 and his blood pressure 162. A writing test, he said, showed that Mr. Rockefeller by continued effort could write only eleven words in two and one half minutes. He said he found a condition of what is mostly called shaking palsy which made an examination by writing practical impossibility.

The American Sugar Refining company went on record at the outset of today's hearings in favor of a reduced tariff on sugar and retention of small differential duty upon refined sugar, "if protection is to be accorded to any industry" and the continuance of the present color standard as the most practicable distinction between raw and refined sugar, for custom house classification. It opposed the abolition of all duty upon sugar on the ground that it would destroy at once one of the largest sources of revenue.

The American company's position was presented by Edwin P. Atkins, vice president and acting head of the company who was accompanied by several other officials.

Senator Cummins today introduced a bill for a 10% tax on short selling of stock and dealing on cotton futures, grain, agricultural products and provisions. The measure is intended to check short sales.

An agreement to vote on the legislative day of January 30th on Senator Works' joint resolution for one six year term for president and vice president was made in the senate today.

RESPITE IS GRANTED TO THREE BROTHERS

Respite is granted.
Graves Brothers Hope to be Given
New Trial For Murder of Kenneth
Lee at Kentville, N. S.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 15.—Instead of dying on the gallows today, in accordance with the sentence originally pronounced on them, the three Graves brothers spent the day in unusually good spirits, thankful that a respite had given them a new lease of life and hopeful that another trial will enable them to escape the extreme penalty of the law. Their case has attracted an extraordinary amount of attention throughout this section, chiefly because it furnishes the first instance on record in which three brothers have been condemned to death in eastern Canada. The crime of which they were convicted was the murder of Kenneth Lee, at Kentville in June last. The three brothers, in an intoxicated condition, called at the victim's house at night with the purpose of visiting a domestic in Lee's employ, and whom the latter had forbidden them to see. In a scuffle that ensued Lee was shot and died two days later. In the trial it was brought out that one of the brothers had previously threatened to kill Lee.

SKUNK HIDES ENTER; MAIL CLERKS LEAVE

Arrival of Fresh Hides by Parcel
Post Drove Out Employees of Decatur, Ill., Postoffice.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 15.—Somebody threw a wrench into the smoothly running parcels post machinery at the Decatur postoffice today. It was a package of fresh skunk hides mailed by a trapper on a rural route. Because fresh breezes were blowing in the country the rural route carrier was able to bring the parcel to Decatur, but as soon as he carried it into the building the force of clerks went out by another door. The parcel will be returned to the sender.

NEGRO FARMERS DISCUSS AGRICULTURAL CREDITS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tuskegee, Ala., Jan. 15.—"Agricultural credit" has been selected as the leading topic for discussion at the twenty-second annual Negro Farmers' Conference, which will meet here next week under the auspices of Tuskegee Institute. Many representative negro farmers of Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas will be present to give their views on how to secure cheaper money for running the farm. Co-operation in banking and finance will be explained by leaders in the co-operative movement.

SUPERIOR DOES NOT WANT TO BELONG TO DULUTH PORT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Superior, Jan. 15.—A petition today will be forwarded to the government authorities by the Superior Commercial club favoring the affiliation of the customs office at Superior with headquarters of the proposed new Wisconsin district at Milwaukee, instead of making the Superior office a part of the Duluth port, as has been suggested as a part of the plan to prevent the consolidation of the Duluth and St. Paul offices with the Minnesota headquarters at the latter city.

MILWAUKEE JEWELRY FIRM LOSES VALUABLE JEWELRY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Jan. 15.—George Logemann & Sons, jewelers at 244 West Water street, lost $1,000 worth of their stock Wednesday morning when a thief smashed a window with a granite stone. The robbery is supposed to have occurred about five o'clock, and from the nature of the job an expert glass-wrecker is thought to have been at work.

EPISCOPAL BISHOPS MEET FOR MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 15.—A dozen bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church, representing dioceses in five middle western states, are attending the annual retreat and conference of the fifth missionary department which began a two days' session here today. Bishop White of this city is acting as host of the visiting prelates, among whom are Bishops Weller of Ford du Lac, Pavcoet of Quincy, McCormick of Grand Rapids, Webb of Milwaukee, Anderson of Chicago, Frances of Indianapolis, Williams of Marquette, and Osborne of Springfield, Ill.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS
LEWIS A. ANDERSON TO SUCCEED EKERN

Former Actuary in Insurance Department Named Insurance Commissioner Last Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—Late last night Governor McGovern appointed Lewis A. Anderson of Madison, for a number of years actuary in the insurance department, as state insurance commissioner, to succeed Herman L. Ekern, whom he removed from office one week ago today. Anderson will accept. Undaunted, Ekern's lawyers will carry his case to the courts with the hope they can still establish his claims to the position. In senate circles this morning it was said that before that body will confirm the appointment, it will pass a resolution to investigate the charges against Ekern. The sympathies of the senate are generally understood to be in favor of Ekern.

MAY FOUND MODEL SCHOOLS IN STATE

Russell Sage Foundation May Establish a Few Model Institutions in Rural Districts.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—The division of education of the Russell Sage Foundation of New York may establish a few model rural schools in Wisconsin. Every member of the legislature received a booklet today from the foundation giving a comparative study of the public school systems in the forty-eight states. The report shows that for every $100 of wealth, Wisconsin 31 cents for schools; Illinois 29 cents; Minnesota 30 cents, and Oklahoma, which has the largest proportion, 75 cents. The report shows that it costs 16 cents each day for one day's schooling for one child in the state of Wisconsin, as compared to 23 cents in Minnesota, 22 cents in Illinois, and in South Carolina, which has the lowest percentage, 7 cents for each child. The report shows that 3.2 per cent of the people in the state of Wisconsin are illiterate, 5 per cent in Minnesota, and 3.7 in Illinois.

CONTESTED ELECTION CASES WILL BE DECIDED SHORTLY.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—Two cases of contested election are before the assembly for settlement on the floor. In one, Ralph H. Clark of Tomahawk, claims he should supplant John O'Day, a democrat, of Merrill, representing the Lincoln county district. Clark was beaten by two votes, and asserts that O'Day received votes of electors who were not qualified. Frank B. Metcalfe, a socialist member at the last session, was defeated for re-election by John Paulin, a non-partisan, in one of the Milwaukee districts, and brought proceedings in district court and now before the assembly itself against the seating of Paulin. He claims that Paulin violated the corrupt practices act in the election campaign, by having failed to sign his name to advertising matter sent out in the interest of his candidacy. Thomas J. Mahon, chairman of the elections committee, said that both cases would have early attention. Both will be prosecuted with a great deal of vigor by respective contestants.

JACK JOHNSON EPISODE MAY MEAN NEW LAW

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—The possibility of the intrusion of the Jack Johnson episode upon the Wisconsin legislature is suggested by recent statements by certain members. They are discussing the feasibility of offering a bill prohibiting whites and blacks intermarrying. The sociological view that the black race will in the course of centuries be assimilated by the white is not shared by these solons interested, who assert that in any such union the black race will be perpetuated.

Manitowoc, Jan. 15.—In a report submitted to the Citizens' Association for the year the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Company to which the association donated a site for a new factory building shows an increase of more than 105 percent in wages paid during the year, and of 60 percent in number of employees for the first year. The company gave the association a guarantee to expend $350,000 in wages within six years and the report shows $101,375 the payroll the first year. The company employs 280 people.

BONDSMAN WITHDREW
BOND FOR JOHNSON
IN CHICAGO COURT

John Morris, Who Furnished Part of Bond For Negro Pugilist, Granted Relief From His Responsibilities Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Jack Johnson the negro pugilist, who was brought back to this city from Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday was surrendered in open court today by John Morris, one of his bondsmen.

Johnson is under $30,000 bond to answer to charges of violating the Mann white slave act. He told the court he had no intentions of evading trial. He said he wanted to talk with Tom Flannigan his former manager at Toronto, Canada, on business matters. "But you shipped two automobiles, didn't you?" inquired Judge Carpenter. Johnson said that that was true, but that he merely had intended to enjoy a few days vacation before shipping them back to Chicago.

Jack Johnson, who was interrupted at Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday on his way to Toronto, Canada, despite the terms of a bail bond holding him in the jurisdiction of the United States district court at Chicago, gave a satisfactory explanation to Judge Carpenter today. He was not surrendered on the $30,000 bond covering his appearance to answer charges of violating the Mann act, but was given up on a $5,000 bond covering a charge of smuggling. The $30,000 bond was allowed to stand and the prize fighter was given time to obtain a new bond on the smuggling charge.

MESSANGER ALTERS TESTIMONY TODAY

Negro Formerly Employed by Standard Oil Company Changes Statements Before Committee Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 15.—William Winkfield, the former Standard Oil negro messenger, who has told the senate committee investigating campaign funds of his participation in the sale of the Archibald letters, made material alterations in his testimony when he reappeared today before the committee. Winkfield told the senators he had the stage fright and a bad headache yesterday, but that he later remembered that one telegram, two letter copy books and three parcels of letters were taken by himself and Stump, another messenger and for his share he got $15,000, which he believed to be one third of the price paid. He said he understood they were sold to the New York American.

Number System of Taxation Proposed Recommended in Message of Governor of New Mexico.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 15.—A number system of taxation for the state, whereby all property will be assessed at its cash value, and a law to enforce such assessment alike against the large corporations and small property-owners is the most important recommendation in Gov. McDonald's message to the legislature today. He proposes to reduce the tax levy from 13 to 2 mills. Immediate ratification of the income tax amendment to the United States constitution is also urged, together with an inheritance tax law.

The subjects of gambling and prize fighting the governor treats collectively, declaring that if the legislators will pass laws prohibiting prize fighting and gambling they will give the new state the best advertising it can possibly have.

ONE MAN KILLED IN CHICAGO EXPLOSION

Elasts in City Water Tunnel Cause Serious Injuries to Gang of Workmen.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 15.—One man was killed, another is reported to have perished and five men were seriously injured by an explosion in a city water tunnel on the south side today. It was the second blast in the tunnel in a few hours, three men having been seriously injured and burned in an explosion late Tuesday night.

Both blasts are believed to have been caused by fumes which gathered in the tunnel following the discharge of dynamite used in blasting rock in the construction of the bore.

The tunnel is being constructed to connect the South Park pumping station at East 55th street with the city water tunnel at the foot of East 73d street. A score of workmen were overcome by fumes from the explosion, but were quickly revived. Ten firemen engaged in rescue work were overcome and had to be carried out of the tunnel.

INITIATIVE MEASURE

Beloit Assemblyman Introduced Resolution to Submit Initiative and Referendum to People.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—A resolution providing for the initiative and referendum to be submitted to the people was introduced today in the assembly by C. D. Rosa, Beloit. This resolution passed the legislature last session. Under the constitution a resolution to change the constitution must pass two successive sessions of the legislature before it can be submitted to a vote of the people.

A resolution came in limiting the time for the introduction of new bills to February 10th to committee on bills.

In the senate this morning private secretary Duncan McGregor presented the message from the governor containing the appointment of Lewis A. Anderson, as insurance commissioner. The appointment was received without comment and went over until Friday under the rules.

OCEAN ROUTES CHANGED FOR WINTER TRAVEL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Jan. 15.—Another step in the movement for greater safety at sea, which owes its origin to the investigation that followed the Titanic disaster, was taken today, when an agreement to change the route of travel between America and Europe was put into effect by all of the transatlantic steamship lines. Beginning with this date it has been agreed that all of the ships shall follow a line about sixty miles to the south of the crossings heretofore used at this time of year. It is expected that the vessels will thus escape the dangerous icebergs that are met with so frequently on the northern route during the spring months. By the change the passengers also will avoid much discomfort due to cold and heavy seas further north.

SCHWITTAY OF MARINETTE HAS HIS OWN PET BILL.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—Contending that the law permitting a circuit judge to decide disbarment cases gives one judge too much power, Assemblyman A. C. Schwittay, the militant Marquette member of the legislature, will introduce a bill enlarging the tribunal in such cases to three circuit judges. Assemblyman Schwittay is himself a victim of the system against which he inveighs, having been disbarred by order of Judge E. Ray Stevens of the Dane county circuit court. The ban was for three years.

Another bill to be offered by Schwittay will provide for the establishment of a state home for inebriates and victims of the drug habit.

PROPOSE TO ABOLISH IMMIGRATION BUREAU

Wisconsin Society of Equity Would Have Bureau of Co-operation Substituted For It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—The Wisconsin Society of Equity will ask for the abolition of the bureau of immigration and the establishment of a bureau of co-operation at this session of the legislature. Their request was placed in the hands of the members of the legislature today in the form of an open letter to Gov. McGovern. The document is signed by D. O. Mahoney, J. H. Carnahan, C. E. Hanson, A. H. Christman and W. M. Rowe. The society endorses the law suggested in the governor's message authorizing the formation of cooperative credit societies designed to improve the temporal well being of groups of productive workers. A number of legislative suggestions are made to the governor.

Other laws asked of the legislature are:

Abolition of a tax on indebtedness including farm mortgages.

"We denounce as a crime the maintenance at public expense of a so-called immigration bureau," says the letter, "the sole purpose of which seems to be to advertise and sell the unwholesome titles of your exploiters' land. We call upon you, Mr. Governor, and the legislature to look upon this land question from the standpoint of the common people, from the standpoint of the state as a whole, and not from the standpoint of the man with land for sale."

AMERICAN CRUISER ORDERED TO MEXICO

Americans Reported in Dangerous Situation at Acapulco on West-ern Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 15.—The cruiser Denver has been ordered from San Diego, California, to Acapulco, Mexico, where a desperate situation is reported with Americans in danger. She will sail tomorrow and should arrive at the Mexican port in about four days. Commander Washington has about two hundred and seventy jacks aboard and a company of marines.

The order was made after alarming reports of the activity of the rebel band under Julio Radillo had been received through Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. Consul Edwards at Acapulco had suggested that inasmuch as the Mexican federals were unable to protect Americans, and the Mexican commander of the town had admitted his inability to reinforce the garrison, a warship should be sent. The last report from Acapulco said Radillo's men were operating in the country about there, and that refugees from every direction were pouring into the town, which is one of the most important Mexican ports on the Pacific. Depredations and atrocities by the approaching rebel band were reported. Americans and other foreigners will be taken aboard the Denver when she reaches there if they so desire. The Denver is the nearest ship to the danger line.

Although the number of Americans in the city of Acapulco proper is not so large, there are large numbers in the surrounding country, engaged in ranching and mining. Grave fears were entertained for their safety by state department officials as soon as it was learned that refugees from the outlying country were seeking safety in Acapulco. The rebels also control Casas Grandes where they have forced the suspension of operations on the railroad.

PROBLEM OF FOREIGN POPULATION TREATED

TWILIGHT CLUB SPEAKERS DISCUSS IMMIGRATION MATTERS.

CHINESE EXCLUSION

Favored by H. J. Cunningham in Talk on "Yellow Peril"—Thorough Supervision Urged.

Problems relative to immigration and emigration in the United States were treated by the speakers at the Twilight Club in an interesting manner Tuesday evening. The matter of immigration naturally received the most extensive treatment but one topic was devoted to the flow of American emigrants to Canada which is practically the only emigration problem which the United States has to deal with seriously.

Chas. H. Weirick, leader of the meeting, introduced the subject of discussion by reading an article which gave the percentage of the labor in various lines of industry which is done by foreigners. This was followed by the first speaker, Horace McElroy, who discussed the question, "Should the United States restrict the class of European immigrants?"

Mr. McElroy explained that he was not an optimist when it came to the immigration problem. He was in favor of restriction and the most careful inspection of all immigrants, especially those coming from the countries in the south and east of Europe, sources which are now sending 80 percent of the new comers.

These people, said the speaker, who cited numerous authorities, show a persistency to gather in the large cities and through the congested districts forming such congested areas as is found in New York City, east of Broadway where 700,000 persons are living within a space corresponding to less than the city of Janesville east of Rock river.

All efforts thus far to interest these foreigners thus crowded into the poorer quarters of the large cities have been failures, said the speaker. As a result the worst sort of immoral conditions, degeneracy and crime. The first immigrants are not criminals but the second generation are well versed in criminal practices.

It is the problem to break up this congestion, to absolutely restrict all foreigners concerning whom there is any question and to restrict them entirely if they cannot be taken care of when they get here, was Mr. McElroy's contention in closing.

The problem of American emigrants into Canada was treated by John Cunningham. In the short space of thirteen years, Mr. Cunningham pointed out, the boom in Canadian northwestern land had started and through consistent advertising methods on the part of the government, thousands of Americans were yearly settling in the new provinces.

Canada maintained a thorough and careful supervision of all immigrants and took care to correct the evils which exist in the United States. Most of the newcomers are farmers, recruited from the prairie ranches of the west and middle western states. The Canadian government employs immigration solicitors who receive a bonus for each desirable settler that they secure.

There has been a large amount of capital poured into Canadian industrial enterprises, said the speaker. The tide of emigration into Canada was now on the decrease, he believed, but the country still faces a serious condition which should arouse the government to a realization of the need of better and more intensified farming methods. This should especially be the case when it is noted that the country is not raising enough of its own food-stuffs to supply its own demands.

H. J. Cunningham in discussing the so-called "Yellow Peril" came out for absolute restriction of the oriental immigrant. "The yellow peril" was not a danger of invasion of our western coast by the eastern people, he said, but was simply a question of whether we should open up the advantage of our country to a class of persons who whatever good characteristic they may have, are still impossible for assimilation or even education. The European immigrants may be taken care of as their problem is mainly one of education, but the Chinaman or the Jap cares nothing for customs, traditions, institutions of any sort. What they want they send back and they add nothing to the result of their labor which could be performed just as well by a more desirable class of people.

The sentiment in the western states was overwhelmingly against the oriental immigrant, said Mr. Cunningham, who has had opportunity to study the actual conditions. He pointed to the fact that a recent vote in California favored exclusion 162,000 to 800. It

Michael Tighe Passes Away at His Home—Funeral Held Today From Sharon Church.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, Jan. 15.—Michael Tighe, one of Clinton's oldest settlers, passed away Sunday evening at his home southeast of Clinton, as a result of general debility.

Mr. Tighe was born in County Mayo, Ireland, in 1830, and came to this country in 1848. Ten years later he was married to Miss Margaret Noon, who was born to them, of whom one boy and one girl have preceded their father to the other world. The children living are: Eugene and Miss Julia, who live at home; Morris, Michael and James of Chicago; and Benjamin of Coleraine, Minn., all of whom were here to attend the funeral, which was held this morning at St. Catherine's church at Sharon, Rev. Fr. Pierce officiating. Interment was made in the Irish Grove cemetery.

Mr. Tighe always held the love and respect of all who knew him and was a loyal citizen, a good husband and father.

STATE GAME WARDEN
RECOUNTS THE NEEDS OF HIS DEPARTMENT

Proposes New Laws in Annual Report Submitted to Governor Today—Game Crop Worth $4,105,443.25.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—The needs of the state fish and game department and desired legislation are set forth in the annual report of State Game Warden John A. Sholis, submitted to the governor today.

The following laws are proposed: To enable the department to gather accurate statistics about fish and game actually taken in the state; harmonious laws for the protection of migratory game birds in all states of the Mississippi basin; prohibition of spring shooting in every state; prohibition of set or snare traps or hooks in inland waters; prohibition of dynamite in taking fish; authorizing the warden or deputies to arrest anyone interfering with officers making arrests or in handling prisoners in custody; providing for new boats for wardens on Lakes Michigan and Superior; establishing state preserves or game farms for propagation of wild animals; use of all monies received for hunting licenses for conservation and propagation purposes.

The total receipts of the department in 1912 were $185,100.18; expenses, $125,455.29; receipts from the 538 seizures, $2,803.28; fines imposed, $15,886; costs imposed, $3,235.60; warden's fees collected, $307.37; cases of violations in court, 907. In Wisconsin last year, estimates at $1,025,000. This included 75,000 muskrat at $5 each, total value $375,000; 1,000,000 muskrat at 50 cents each, total value $500,000; 400,000 skunks at $1.50 value each, total value $600,000; and other fur-bearing animals to the aggregate value of $150,000. The report says that 123,400 licenses for each animal were issued, the total value of such game killed being $308,500, and 6,387 deer were shipped, the total value being $119,656.25. The total value of game animals and deer was $128,156.25. Based on an estimated value of $3 worth of fish per person, the value of fish taken by 17,429 non-resident fishermen was $52,287; and at $2 per person for 1,000,000 resident fishermen, $2,000,000 worth of fish was taken. The total value of furs and fur-bearing animals game animals and fish taken in Wisconsin last year was $4,105,443.25.

Commenting on the fact that $450,000 worth of skunk pelts were handled in 1911, the report says:

"The skunk is very valuable in picking up insect pests, and while it occasionally does damage, its services far outweigh the harm done."
The warden recommends that the skunk receive some legal protection. The proposal for game preserves is inspired by the fact of the encroachments of civilized communities upon the deer regions, threatening the ultimate extinction of valuable species. It is suggested that with favorable legislation, otherwise waste land could be utilized for propagation purposes for deer. The warden recommends "joint activity in protecting the few birds that remain and helping to save them from complete extermination," and "aid in teaching Wisconsin's children how to know to enjoy the beautiful and useful birds without destroying them, and in knowing their relations in the economy of nature."

The report states the department employed 30 deputies in the deer season and 64 the rest of the year. It is stated that the fact of fewer arrests and confiscations last year are an indication of a more enlightened view of fish and game protection on the part of the people. The educational work of the department was done by D. A. Cleasby, a warden, in the lecture field, emphasizing the importance of conservation of birds, fish and game and their economic value to the people, and addresses by Dr. T. S. Palmer of the United States Biological survey, F. E. Doty, secretary of the state civil service commission and Prof. George Wagner, University of Wisconsin.

CLINTON LOCAL ITEMS.

H. F. Dalhman went to Milwaukee this morning to attend the two days' session of the annual state convention of Master Plumbers.

Mrs. H. W. Stearns returned from Colorado yesterday, where she was called on account of the serious illness of her daughter, a few weeks ago.

E. M. Vanderlyn desires the state published in the local paper that he has purchased the Woodard lot on Durand street.

J. B. Kennermer writes from Socongo, New Mexico, where he and Mrs. Kennermer are visiting their son, George, and incidentally avoiding the rigorous Wisconsin winter, that they are having weather 12 and 13 degrees below zero and six inches of snow.

Ray Stewart was confined to his home Monday with an attack of neuralgia.

Corla Reichard of Chicago, who has owned the Hotel Clinton, sold that piece of property a few days ago to George F. Danzer, also of Chicago. Word has been received here that Mr. Danzer will occupy the place soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Boden went to Chicago yesterday morning and are expected back tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. James Wingard and Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Collier went to Malta, Illinois, this morning, to attend a wedding of a niece.

And if at the end of 30 days you are not cured of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel trouble, the druggist will return your 25 cents.

CATARRH OF THE PHARYNX

Causes Spitting and Coughing.

Catarrh of the pharynx is very common among men or women who are good liver. People who drink some. Smoke much. Late suppers. In the morning they hawk and spit and gag. Bad taste in the mouth. Sometimes it is noon before the tongue is somewhat coated, voice husky, feeling cross and crabbed and generally out of sorts. This is a condition of the pharynx closely resembling catarrh and is generally the direct result of habits, although not always.

Hawking and Spitting Cured. Get a bottle of Peruna. The first thing in the morning, before you get ready for breakfast, your stomach will be ready also. The first dose may not clear up things exactly. You may gag and spit a little, but keep right on every morning, a tablespoonful the first thing. Also take a tablespoonful before dinner and before supper.

Let me repeat. You had better cut out all these late suppers and drinks. Cut out the smoking, also. Better live as I do, in which none of these things are used. Go to bed early. Get up like I do, early in the morning and take a cold bath. Then you will realize the joy of living. But if you won't do this, take Peruna as I have described, and you will count yourself a lucky man or woman that you happened to read this article.

OBITUARY.

Austin Judge.
Requiem mass for Austin Judge was celebrated at nine o'clock this morning at St. Patrick's church by Rev. Father Mahoney. The pall bearers, all grandsons, were Allen Donahue, Matthew Kennedy, Lee and John Kenna. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

D. H. McKinney.
Last services for D. H. McKinney will be held at his late residence, two-thirty o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Rev. John McKinney officiating.

Carl Broskey.
Funeral services for Carl Broskey, a nephew of Eugene Delisle of this city, who died at the Deloit hospital Monday afternoon, were held at the home of Mr. Delisle, 215 Center avenue, at two o'clock this afternoon. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery. Broskey was seventeen years and ten months old at the time of his death, and had lived with his uncle here until four months ago when he went to Heloit to accept employment. He was sick only a few days.

GAZETTE WILL HAVE CORRECT MAPS.

There has been so much question regarding the correctness of the various parcels Post maps showing the units and zones that the Gazette has held off securing a supply for its patrons and friends until such time as it is certain that the government map and those made therefrom, were correct.

Within a very short time the matter will be settled definitely and the Gazette will have maps to supply its patrons and friends with, and will make the announcement as soon as such a map has been secured.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will hold its annual "Foreign Praise" service at the church parlors on Wednesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. All the ladies are most cordially invited.

That fame in the baseball world is a fleeting thing never was better shown than in the case of Amos Rusie. It was only a few years ago that he was one of the idols of baseball. Sporting pages were filled with pictures of him and stories of his mighty feats. Then suddenly his mighty pitching arm went back on him and he dropped out of sight. Today he is doing time in a Seattle, Wash., jail, charged with threatening his wife and driving her out of his house. Rusie commanded a big salary in his day, but he is now only a common laborer.

Harry Davis, former manager of the Cleveland Naps, will be back with his old love next season. Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics has taken him on as an assistant coach. Davis will be in charge of one squad when Davis divides the players.

Harry Thomas, the English lightweight, and Pat Moore have been matched for 10 rounds by the New York Athletic club for January 25.

Luther McCarty is a living denial of the tradition that heavyweights have to be past the age of twenty-five before achieving great honor in their profession. The Nebraskan is only a kid of 20.

Jim Corbett was 26 when he took the crown from John L. Sullivan in New Orleans. Fitzsimmons was 35 when he laid Corbett low at Carson City. Jeffries was 24 when he put Fitz out of the running, and Tommy Burns was 25 when Jeff handed him the title. Jack Johnson was thirty when he stopped Tommy Burns at Australia.

Henry Gehring, middleweight wrestling champion, is another comeback. Gehring said before his match with Bob Barry, English champion, July 4 last, that the match would be his last one, if he won. He won. Now he is matched to wrestle Mike Yokel at Salt Lake City and talks of other matches after that.

Montreal, New York, and Springfield, Ill., have made formal application for dates in the grand circuit. Dallas, Texas, and Phoenix, Arizona, have been talked of for places in the big circuit, and perhaps Bermuda, the great training town for ball clubs, will be the next to make application for membership in the major harness circuit.

Frank L. Kramer, for the past twelve years America's premier cyclist, and at present the world's champion, has gone to Europe in the hope of gathering in more honors. Carefully tucked away in his inside pocket is a contract which calls for $8,000, or a scale of $1,000 a race for eight races.

Kramer is under contract to a Paris manager, and is to ride one race a week for eight weeks, commencing February 8 and lasting until April 5. During this time he will meet all the leading bicyclists in Europe.

MAY SEND TEAM TO STATE TOURNAMENT

Janesville Bowlers Will Consider Competition at Beaver Dam On Jan. 24th.

The question of representation with one or more teams at the annual state bowling tournament which will be held at Beaver Dam, on Jan. 24th will be considered at the next meeting of the Janesville bowling league. One hundred and twenty-one teams have already been listed in the event but the Janesville men are confident that they would make a good showing and will communicate at once with Secretary Frisbie relative to application. This is the eleventh annual tournament for the state and promises to excel all others in attendance.

Thirty teams from Beaver Dam, twelve from Oshkosh, seven from Madison, ten from Juneau, seven from Fond du Lac, and one from Green Bay are reported. Milwaukee is coming stronger each day and it is predicted that when the entries close all Cream City attendance records will be smashed.

THREE MORE TEAMS FOR POLO CIRCUIT

Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Freeport Will be Invited to Join League Which Includes Janesville.

An effort to enlarge the number of teams belonging to the roller polo league will be made at the coming meeting of the team managers in Milwaukee, Jan. 20. An invitation has already been extended to Fond du Lac, where the fans have the matter under serious consideration. If Fond du Lac accepts Oshkosh and Freeport will also be invited which would make an eight team league.

The Janesville players will have their first game on the local floor on Friday evening, Jan. 24, when they will meet the Kenosha players.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL PLAY ALUMNI

Game to Be Played Tonight Between School, Five and Old Graduates.

Tonight at seven-thirty, the high school basketball team will open its season by tackling the Alumni. This game will in all probability be the fastest and hardest game of the season. The high school squad are ready for the tilt, and a good game can be assured. The Alumni compose practically all of the former Lakota team and now the Janesville Cardinals, and they are in playing form, more so than the high school. A huge crowd is expected, and the game will be played under the A. A. U. rules so as to satisfy the crowd and to make the game easier for the high school team, in making a clean record this season.

The forwards will be Atwood and Dalton, with Hemming at center, and Capt. Falter and Edler at guards. The Alumni will be as follows: Roger Cunningham and Murphy, forwards; B. Wilkerson, C. Langdon and Brown guards. Reno Koch will referee the game.

The Theatre

"BEVERLY"

Sunday, January 13, matinee, and evening the attraction at the Myers Theater will be the dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's thrilling "Beverly." It seems that "Beverly" is destined to live for many years. The play is now in its fourth year of success and is drawing larger audiences than ever before.

In every city in which they have appeared they have been greeted with large and enthusiastic audiences and after the first performance "Standing Room Only" has been the sign that has greeted late comers to the theater in the larger cities. The play has a wonderful appealing power and is enthusiastically received by all classes of theater patrons.

It is a story of war, a story of love and a story of laughter. Plot follows counterplot, amusing situations follow one after the other and through the whole is running one of the most delightful love stories one ever had the pleasure of witnessing on the stage. The production that will be seen here is said to be scenically beautiful and that every advantage is taken of the wealth of descriptive detail furnished by the author. The Graustarkian landscape lends itself particularly to the scenic painter's art for there are great massive mountains, sharp rugged valleys, cool limpid lakes, babbling brooks and a wealth of trees and foliage. Against such a background the gorgeous bright colored costumes of the far east show with added brilliancy and the whole forms a picture that is well worth seeing.

THE BOY SCOUTS.

The Boy Scout movement was born in this country in February, 1910. The third birthday anniversary will be celebrated by the 300,000 members, from the eighth to the fifteenth of next month. Interest in the organization is growing and good results are apparent on every hand. A Boy Scout is a gentleman, wherever you find him, and an army of young gentlemen means much to the country. Here's a little story which tells of their gentlemanly work:

"I saw a big, heavy woman fall as she was crossing the street, almost a block ahead of me," said the man. "Her bundles flew to the four winds, in the snow banks that almost surrounded the woman. Before I could get to the woman a tiny lad had rushed up to her and, though she must have weighed over two hundred pounds, did his best to assist her to her feet. Then he dug into the snow bank for the packages and had just got the woman on her way by the time I reached the scene. He was such a mite of a lad and did everything so capably, I admired the way the lad went about his little bit of heroism, and said: 'You're a fine little man.' 'Yes, sir,' replied the lad. 'I'm nearly a Boy Scout. I'm only ten years old, but next year I'll be eleven, and then I'll get in. But my brother is a Scout, and I learn everything from him; that's the reason I knew how to help that woman.'"

"If that isn't as fine a bit of justification for the Boy Scout movement, as one could wish, we don't know how much more a reasonable person could ask. A great many boys would have stood by and laughed to see a fat woman fall in the snow, instead of which this fine world-wide movement has taught boys to be gallant and useful."

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE.

A dispatch from Freeport, Ill., says that: "Owing to the variance of opinion regarding Sunday shows in local theatres, Mayor C. J. Dittmar proposed that the matter be submitted to a vote at the next election. In this way only will he take further action in the matter. He says that he will not favor an amendment to the amusement ordinance, as the matter now stands, and that should an amendment be passed it would be over his head. However he qualified this remark by saying that he would favor Sunday shows, provided the voters so expressed themselves at an election."

This might be a good way to settle the Sunday amusement question in Janesville. Opinion is so divided that it is difficult for the council to determine what the majority want. A vote on the question would be a satisfactory solution.

THE CIVIC CENTER.

A revival of interest in the neighborhood civic center, with the public school building as its clubhouse, is evident, and it is timely. Duluth has adopted a charter that gives the broadest powers to a centralized city government, subject only to the check of public opinion. Therefore Duluth will need, as it never has needed before, an alert and constantly well-informed citizenship. The best way to bring that about is through neighborhood clubs for the discussion of public matters; and since the school buildings are used for educational purposes only a small part of the time, obviously they should be utilized for this purpose. The civic center has social trimmings, and they are necessary; but they are trimmings, only. The foundation is the civic purpose; the gathering of the real government—the people—in neighborhood circles for the discussion of public questions. The real seat of government is not at Washington, not at St. Paul, not at the city hall, but in the homes and the neighborhoods. The purpose of the civic center is to give coherent and well studied expression to the wishes and needs of those who are not only the governed, but the government itself.—Duluth Herald.

The neighborhood civic center, with the school house for a club house, is one of the latest uplift movements, and it is so practical that it is worthy of every encouragement. The primary law has so disrupted all party organizations, that something is needed to take the place of the old-time caucus and convention, so that the average voter may act intelligently. The school houses of the land may well be used for this purpose.

The Appleton Post becomes a little facetious and says: Governor McGovern's summary dismissal of his insurance commissioner is taken to mean that in this case he is determined if he can help it that no great political oak shall from this little Ekern grow and furthermore that he thereby serves notice on Battle Bob that he proposes to do some battling with his own self when cases of offensive partisanship on the part of his appointees are brought to his attention. And this is really the crux of the whole matter. Laying aside the question of the morality of his action from a political standpoint, it must appear that the Governor acted for the best interests of the state from the standpoint of efficient service in government. What manager of a commercial enterprise would retain in his employ a servant who deliberately endeavored to embarrass that manager's business policy? It is the elementary duty of the appointees of a president of the United States to his cabinet positions must be filled in full sympathy with his plans and purposes, and if a time comes when any of them are not, they must get on.

Whiteside county, Illinois, through Congressman McKenzie of that district, is promised government aid to the extent of $2,400, for the employment of a farm doctor, to aid the farmers in their efforts along the line of scientific farming. The only condition is that the local people show sufficient interest to forward the work. This is a sensible move, and the experiment will be watched with interest. The railroads of the country are encouraging this kind of work, and much is being accomplished.

The prevention of disease is commanding more attention today than at any time in the history of the country. County hospitals for the care of tubercular diseases is one of the evidences of this widespread interest. This hospital work is both philanthropic and humane, as well as a safeguard against the spread of the disease. The county board, now in session, can well afford to give the matter of a Rock county hospital favorable consideration. The county can well afford to encourage this kind of work.

The women's raid on the Chicago egg market, established a reputation for cold storage eggs, and today they are considered better than the strictly fresh brand, from the country. The packing house men claim that their business has profited, while eggs have settled back to normal prices. Butter is still a luxury, and will continue to be until oleo comes into its own.

The American people have cultivated a taste for bananas, during the past twenty years, and the annual consumption has now reached six million bunches. They are a whole-some food, and so cheap that they are no longer a luxury. The tropical countries are capable of producing an unlimited supply.

It is one thing to fire a man from office, and another thing to make him vacate, as the governor is finding to his embarrassment, in the case of Ekern, his insurance commissioner. The power behind the throne is in Washington, and the governor may discover that it is dangerous to "monkey" with the buzz-saw.

The loss to the California fruit crop has been over-estimated. The crop was so abundant that the market will continue to be supplied at reasonable prices. Florida oranges are just now at their best, and the southern fruit is much superior to the western.

The dance given at Assembly hall last evening by the Rock County Telephone girls was very well attended, nearly one hundred and fifty couples being present. The hall decorations were in white and pink. Hatch's full orchestra furnished the dance music.

GRAIN SHOW HONORS

TO NOYES RAESSLER

Rock County Man Carries Off Largest Number of Prizes at Madison Exhibit Last Week.

At the recent Grain Show held at Madison, January 10th and 11th, Rock county, took a very prominent part. Noyes Raessler carried off more prizes on pure bred corn and grain than any other single exhibitor, winning first prize in both classes of white and yellow dent corn also first prize in Pedigree Oats, Pedigree Rye and Spring wheat.

His first prize ten ears of Wisconsin No. 7 corn are now on the way to Columbia, South Carolina, as are also his best ten ears of yellow dent known as "Rosa's Victor." There they will be exhibited again at the National Corn Exposition.

The best ten ears were sold for $16.00 at the auction which closed the grain show and were bought by Mr. Raessler himself. Mr. Raessler also exhibited the best fifty ears of "Golden Glow" at the Wisconsin Grain Show but he failed to purchase them at the auction as four long course students combined and outbid the exhibitor paying at the rate of $40.00 per bushel.

Mr. Raessler has shipped corn to most of the corn growing states in United States and has made two foreign shipments, one to Budapest, Austria, and another to Mexico. Golden Glow seems to be the favorite and is rapidly becoming a favorite not only in Wisconsin but in the Southern states as well.

Musical Program Given at Meeting of D. A. R.

Local Chapter Held Interesting Meeting at Home of Mrs. J. G. Rexford Yesterday.

The Daughters of the Revolution gave a very interesting meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Rexford. A musical program was given. It consisted of a sextette given by Mesdames Rexford, Wilcox, Thomas and the Misses Birch, Hodges and Lewis. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Rexford both gave solos. Mrs. Wilcox gave a piano solo; Mrs. John Nichols a violin solo. The accompaniment for these numbers was given by Miss Mae Treat. Mrs. Frank Pember gave a musical reading. Mrs. William Sherer accompanying her on the piano. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING STARTS SOON AT SCHOOL.

Extemporaneous speaking at the high school will begin next week. Prof. Buell announced the fact this morning, much to the surprise of the students. The time for speaking comes once every week and comprises a period of forty minutes. The school is divided into sections with about the same number in each division. Each member of the faculty has a division to act as chairman over. The six debaters are exempt from the speaking, on account of having one form now on their hands. Some however will enter the classes for extemporaneous work also.

INTERMEDIATES TO PLAY AT BELOIT ON SATURDAY

Local Basketball Team Will Meet Line City Intermediates Five Saturday Night.

On Saturday evening at Beloit, the basketball team of the Intermediate class of the local Y. M. C. A. will meet the Intermediates of Beloit. The local Intermediates five is composed of members of the "B" Junior team of last year, and is a fast playing aggregation. The Beloit players are said to be larger than the Janesville boys, but Physical Director T. C. Hartwell is relying on the speed of his proteges and is confident they will win. The Janesville line-up will be as follows: Bleasdale, center; Rau, left guard; Stickney, right guard; McKelque, right forward; McElroy, left forward.

On Monday evening a mask ball will be given by H. C. Schmeling in academy hall. Music will be furnished by Merrill's six piece orchestra. Dancing starts at 8:30 o'clock. The home waltz will be played at 1 o'clock sharp.

The third number on the lecture course will be given on Royal hall this evening. The people of the course are from the Lyceum Bureau at Chicago. They are "The Cambridge Players."

Visitors at the Carlton on Tuesday were: T. J. Bones, Chicago; Bart Hart, Chicago; J. Ross, Monroe; J. Nelson, Chicago; O. P. Nelson, New York City; J. Haugen, New York City; P. "Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just what makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into starchy lumps, you feel gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

PAPE'S 22 GRAIN TRIANGLES OF DIAPEPSIN MAKES DISORDERED STOMACHS FEEL FINE IN FIVE MINUTES. CURES INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, SOURNESS, GAS, HEARTBURN.

ALBERT L. MAHONEY

WEDDED AT BARABOO

Young Business Man of This City United in Marriage Today to Miss Maud Grace Kellogg.

At nine o'clock this morning at the Catholic church in Baraboo, Albert L. Mahoney of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Maud Grace Kellogg of Baraboo. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the couple, who were attended at the altar by Miss Catherine Mahoney, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Ambrose Ryan of this city as best man. A wedding reception was held immediately afterwards at the bride's home and Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney departed on a short wedding trip. They will reside in this city at 326 Locust street.

The bride is a young lady popular in Baraboo and has a number of friends in this city. The groom is a young business man of Janesville, a member of the firm of Mahoney & Newman. Janesville guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mahoney, parents of the groom, Miss Catherine Mahoney, Ambrose Ryan and Kendall Newman.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN AT MEETING OF D. A. R.

Local Chapter Held Interesting Meeting at Home of Mrs. J. G. Rexford Yesterday.

The Daughters of the Revolution gave a very interesting meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Rexford. A musical program was given. It consisted of a sextette given by Mesdames Rexford, Wilcox, Thomas and the Misses Birch, Hodges and Lewis. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Rexford both gave solos. Mrs. Wilcox gave a piano solo; Mrs. John Nichols a violin solo. The accompaniment for these numbers was given by Miss Mae Treat. Mrs. Frank Pember gave a musical reading. Mrs. William Sherer accompanying her on the piano. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING STARTS SOON AT SCHOOL.

Extemporaneous speaking at the high school will begin next week. Prof. Buell announced the fact this morning, much to the surprise of the students. The time for speaking comes once every week and comprises a period of forty minutes. The school is divided into sections with about the same number in each division. Each member of the faculty has a division to act as chairman over. The six debaters are exempt from the speaking, on account of having one form now on their hands. Some however will enter the classes for extemporaneous work also.

INTERMEDIATES TO PLAY AT BELOIT ON SATURDAY

Local Basketball Team Will Meet Line City Intermediates Five Saturday Night.

On Saturday evening at Beloit, the basketball team of the Intermediate class of the local Y. M. C. A. will meet the Intermediates of Beloit. The local Intermediates five is composed of members of the "B" Junior team of last year, and is a fast playing aggregation. The Beloit players are said to be larger than the Janesville boys, but Physical Director T. C. Hartwell is relying on the speed of his proteges and is confident they will win. The Janesville line-up will be as follows: Bleasdale, center; Rau, left guard; Stickney, right guard; McKelque, right forward; McElroy, left forward.

On Monday evening a mask ball will be given by H. C. Schmeling in academy hall. Music will be furnished by Merrill's six piece orchestra. Dancing starts at 8:30 o'clock. The home waltz will be played at 1 o'clock sharp.

The third number on the lecture course will be given on Royal hall this evening. The people of the course are from the Lyceum Bureau at Chicago. They are "The Cambridge Players."

Visitors at the Carlton on Tuesday were: T. J. Bones, Chicago; Bart Hart, Chicago; J. Ross, Monroe; J. Nelson, Chicago; O. P. Nelson, New York City; J. Haugen, New York City; P. Hoveland, Milwaukee; W. L. Genard, Racine; L. McCormack, Chicago; B. B. Powell, Chicago; A. Kimball, Chicago; M. Jinks, Milwaukee; Otto Olson, city.

Miss Bernice Saunders will visit friends in Janesville this week.

Mrs. Mel. Conway was a Janesville business visitor today.

Otto Olson is a Milwaukee visitor today.

MAILING TAX BILLSNOT FAVORED HERE

Mailing of tax bills to property owners, such as has been proposed in Oshkosh and is said to be in vogue in some cities, is not regarded with favor by the city officers of Janesville. Complaint is made in Oshkosh that annoying delays result from the present system. The property owner calls at the city treasurer's office, gives the description of his property, and then waits until his bill is made out. Very frequently the taxpayer makes a mistake in the description or does not know it, and this requires a search of the records. This takes a great deal of time, and the bills are delayed for long periods, and the office becomes congested.

Difficulties of this kind are not met with at the office of the Janesville city treasurer. The former city treasurer, Mayor Paterson, has been in the office so long that he is well acquainted with practically every piece of property in the city, so much so that tax payers do not usually give the description of their property but merely their name. Although not now officiating as city treasurer, he is always at hand to give desired information and collections are handled rapidly. As many as twenty tax payers can be waited on in half an hour and it is not necessary for them to wait their turn for more than a few minutes.

The advantage of the system of mailing tax bills, says Mayor Paterson, is that it prevents congestion and is possibly a check against errors on the part of new clerks. The disadvantages are even more marked. If the bills, which are stamped as receipts when paid, are mailed out, and the property owner neglects to pay before the first of February, the receipts would receive amendment when received because of the penalty on late collections. Receipts could also require amendment if the tax payer chose to pay taxes on only a part of his property at one time as is frequently the case. The only way out of the difficulty would be to issue individual bills against each description. This would complicate the work a great deal because as many as thirty and more receipts would have to be made out for some tax payers. The Milwaukee city treasurer a few years ago tried the experiment of mailing tax receipts but inside of ten days the collections were in such a muddle that the plan was promptly discontinued and the work begun over again under the old system. Many receipts are made out ahead by the Janesville city treasurer, but merely as an accommodation.

LOOK FOR RECORD IN ATTENDANCE AT SHOW

OFFICIALS OF POULTRY SHOW EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE THIS WEEK.

ENTRIES ARE LARGER

Nearly Two Hundred More Fowls Entered Than Were Last Year—Other Notes of Exhibition.

A record attendance at the fifth annual poultry show of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association is hoped for this week by officials in charge of the show. "There is nothing to prevent the people of Janesville and vicinity from turning out," said Secretary F. H. Green today, "the weather is good and we have one of the best shows in the country. The attendance thus far has been fair, but we should have big crowds of Janesville people every day."

The paid entries of birds in the show totals over eleven hundred, nearly two hundred more than last year and the quality of the fowls entered is of the best. It would be hard to find a better poultry exhibit anywhere except in the larger cities, like Chicago or New York.

An interesting fact in connection with the present show is that Judge Charles V. Keeler, who with Earl Roberts of Port Atkinson, is scoring the birds, is the judge who was reported to have lost the ruby setting of a ring at the show at La Crosse. According to the report, the setting, valued at $200, dropped out of the ring and was swallowed by a hen valued at $200. The judge is reported to have offered $400 for the hen, but the report said, the owner refused to sell it. Judge Keeler laughed when asked concerning the report and said, "Oh, that was just some of the stuff the newspaper men thought up." Incidentally it may be mentioned that the judge wears a glove on one hand while he is at work, and there are no rings on the other hand.

Rev. F. W. Schoenfeld of Edgerton, pastor of the Congregational church, is a poultry fancier, and has some pretty fancy stock in his coops. He has an exhibit of Black Langshans at the poultry show, and it is reported that one of the fowls, a particularly fine cockerel, cost him the sum of $100.

Another novelty in the way of exhibits at the show is a coop containing a pair of fantail pigeons, entered by C. F. Brockhaus. The feathers of the fowls have been dyed a pale blue.

Janesville has something on the Milwaukee show in the way of the display of turkeys here, according to those who have attended both exhibitions. There is a particularly fine display of these birds, in the white and bronze varieties, and a part of one of the pens in the center of the auction room has been given over to a display of gobblers and their males entered by a Whitewater exhibitor. The pleasant display, although these fowls have never been extensively entered in the show, is larger and better than ever before and some fine specimens are on exhibition.

Lack of sufficient coops for all the entries to the show this year made it necessary for the officials of the association to secure more coops, and a shipment of one hundred was sent here today from Port Atkinson. The officials of the show had anticipated a larger number of entries, but not quite as many as were received.

The work of judging the birds was commenced yesterday afternoon and was continued throughout today by the two judges, Mr. Roberts of Port Atkinson and Mr. Keeler. The scorings are being tabulated in the office of the secretary as fast as is possible.

QUIETLY CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY DAY

Reverend C. J. Koerner of St. Paul's German Lutheran Church Married Forty Years.

Forty years ago, January 15, 1873, Reverend C. J. Koerner was united in marriage to Miss Sophia Dachmann, by Reverend Charles Frinke, at the old Martini church in Baltimore, Md. Reverend Koerner was at that time in charge of the church at Whitefish, Wis. For eight years they made Whitewater their home and then for the next eleven years resided in Holenaville. On July 1, 1891 they came to Janesville and have made this city their home since. Three sons and two daughters were born to the couple, one son making his home at Leavenworth, Washington, a second at Jefferson and the third in New York. Two daughters reside at home. Reverend and Mrs. Koerner received the congratulations of their many friends today and spent the day with a quiet home gathering of their immediate family.

GAZE LECTURE ON HAWAII AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Charles A. Payne of Milwaukee Gave Number Last Evening on "Beautiful Hawaii"

Rev. Charles A. Payne, traveler and lecturer, last evening gave an illustrated lecture on "Beautiful Hawaii" at the Presbyterian church as one of the numbers on the lecture course. Some interesting facts as to the natural beauty of the island were given, illustrated with a number of handsome stereoscopic views. The speaker showed a wide knowledge of the physical features of the country, the climate and the existing conditions, and these were graphically described in his address. He showed a sense of keen observation and his viewpoint was expressed in a most entertaining manner.

RESTRICTS COMMITMENT TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Bill to be introduced by Senator White Would Give Judge Discretion As to Length of Term.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—Senator White of Winnebago county believes that boys and girls should not be committed to the industrial schools for a longer period than one year. He will introduce a bill in the legislature intended to accomplish this result.

There is considerable dissatisfaction over the present law which that boys and girls committed to the industrial school shall remain there until they have arrived at the age of twenty-one years, said Senator White today. "I think the law should be amended so that a child shall be committed no less than one year nor longer than the child attains the age of twenty-one years, in the discretion of the judge or magistrate committing him," he said. The board of supervisors of Winnebago county after investigating this subject has decided to memorialize the legislature to amend the present law, along the line I have suggested.

TO TAKE ACTION ON SANATORIUM MATTER THURSDAY MORNING

SUPERVISOR GETTLE READS REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE WHICH IS MADE SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS.

OPINION ON MILEAGE

Board Members Surprised at Attorney General's Decision That They Are Not Entitled to Mileage For Adjourned Meeting.

Chairman L. E. Gettle of the special committee which has been investigating the matter of a tuberculosis sanatorium for Rock county, read the committee's report at the meeting of the county board this afternoon and on his motion the action on the report was for a special order of business for Thursday morning at eleven o'clock.

While the general tenor of the report is considered favorable to the establishment of such an institution, the committee does not come out absolutely recommending the proposed hospital. One of the members of the committee, Mr. Roach, according to the report, is opposed to an appropriation at this time, but it is taken that the other members favor a hospital which would cost $20,000 to build and which would require $3,000 per year for maintenance. The report cites some figures and statistics relative to the cases and deaths from tuberculosis in the county and treats briefly of counties that have adopted sanatoria.

On the motion of Supervisor Hopkins the bill of Messrs. Milks and Parker for road work in the town of Magnolia was allowed for the amount of $37.50.

This was a compromise as the men claimed some $200 while Mr. Moore, present highway commissioner was disposed to give them $140, which he deemed sufficient for the actual work on the highway. There was considerable discussion on the bill which was a special order of business for two o'clock today.

The matter of county aid to Miss Angie King who is seriously ill at the Henderson hospital was referred to the District Attorney for information and advice which will be given tomorrow.

Morning Session.

Members of the Rock county board of supervisors now meeting in adjourned session, are not entitled to mileage at this time, according to the opinion of former Attorney General Levi H. Bancroft, given while he was in office, which was read to the board members by the county clerk this morning. Mr. Bancroft holds that supervisors are not entitled to mileage for an adjourned meeting.

The question was raised by Supervisor Tullar of Evansville at the November assembly whether the members were not entitled to a second allowance for mileage when the board adjourned its session from Friday to Tuesday at the time when Beloit contingent presented its protest on the county equalization.

Additional Mileage.

Mr. Tullar contended that the members were entitled to a second mileage account then for the same reason that they were entitled to mileage at the January meeting which is always an adjourned meeting from the annual session in November. The usual mileage, however, was all that was given the members at the time, but District Attorney Dunwiddie took up the matter and requested an opinion from the attorney general's office.

After reviewing the law in the matter and citing several cases Mr. Bancroft's opinion closes as follows: "While the question is not free from doubt, it is clearly your duty and mine to resolve such doubt in favor of the public. Furthermore, it is a rule of construction that when the provision of the law fixing a compensation is not clear, it should be given the construction most favorable to the government."

May Disregard Opinion.

"I am of the opinion that section 625 allows mileage for only one round trip to attend the county meeting; no matter how long such meeting may be continued, how many times it may be adjourned, or the length of time between adjournments."

It is stated among the board members that the attorney general's opinion will be disregarded and that the supervisors will draw their mileage at this meeting as they always have done. Supervisor Simon Smith declared that the opinion was only an opinion and that the board was not bound in any way by it. He said that the board should be guided by practice and precedent. Supervisor Richardson advanced the point that the board should adjourn sine die at the November meeting and call a special meeting in January which would solve the difficulty. The board in no way connected.

The total amount of the mileage for the board at any one session is $37.50. The largest mileage bill is $7.50 for 50 miles.

Highway Bills Up.

There was little business of importance before the board this morning. Supervisor Simon Smith of committee No. 19 on general claims stated that the committee had suggested bills which they wished the whole board to consider. He moved that they be made a special order of business for two o'clock this afternoon as they pertained to highway matters and as there was also another matter which came up at that time. Committee ten's bills are from town chairmen who ask pay for their services as assistants to the county highway commissioner. Other town chairmen have received their pay from their respective townships.

Supervisor Moseley presented the report of committee No. 1 on tax certificates over three years old and recommended that the county clerk be instructed to take tax deeds for the property listed. Supervisor Ross submitted the report of committee No. 8 on saloon licenses. Both reports were accepted.

The report of the register of deeds for the year 1912 was read and referred to committee No. 9. On motion of Supervisor Moseley the register of deeds was allowed $25 for an additional deputy in his office during the month of March, 1913.

GENERAL CONFUSION FOLLOWS KEG PARTY

Lamps Smashed and Furniture Broken at Rook Home on Western Avenue—Police Called.

A general mix-up which resulted in the breaking of several lamps and some furniture, a call for the police, and the arrest of four men followed a keg party held at the Rook home on Western avenue last night. The men arrested were William Cochran, William Grimes, and James and William Rooks. Cochran denied having any part in the rumpus, but plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness and in default of a fine of $4 and costs was sent to jail for six days. He is a houndeer at the Rook home. James and William Rooks plead "not guilty" when first arraigned this morning, but were convicted of intoxication by the testimony of Patrolman John Brown, when brought up for trial an hour later. Each was sent to jail for eight days. Grimes was dismissed, it being proved that he was not drunk and had no part in the scrape. One of the Rook boys, who came to the station to make complaint, stated that he was one of the men misbehaving, and when found in a down town saloon soon afterward in company with the other two men, he was placed under arrest.

Robert Welch, locked up last night on a charge of intoxication, plead guilty and was sent to jail for eight days, not being able to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Quickly Disperses Stomach Distress

Whatever the Trouble, it Disappears in Five Minutes After Taking a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

All of the unpleasant sensations attendant upon eating too heartily are almost instantly relieved by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

Heaviness of the Stomach From Undigested Food Quickly Relieved, by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When you take food into a stomach that is tired and over-taxed, the gastric juices do not form fast enough to digest it properly. So the food becomes sour and at once begins to throw off gases. Your stomach becomes inflated just as surely as if you attached a toy balloon to a gas jet. Then the gases and foul odors issue forth and pollute your breath. Your tongue quickly becomes coated and you can taste the foulness that is within you.

Now all this condition is changed almost instantly by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. This little digester gets busy at once—dissolves all the digestive elements that were lacking—digests the food in a jiffy and refreshes the mucous lining of the stomach and bowels and restores peace and content.

One grain of a single ingredient in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. This saves your stomach and gives it the rest it needs. All muscles require occasional rest if they are over-taxed. The stomach is no exception to this rule.

Try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and you will wonder how you ever got along without them. They are sold at 50 cents by all druggists everywhere.

Wax says a law ought to have, requiring this, compelling that: he thinks a law's the only salve for every grief beneath his hat. If some old lean ramblous man's reached out and kicked him on the jaw, he'd say the people ought to rule, and that there ought to be a law. His house is standing by the creek, and every spring the floods come down, and drive him from it pretty quick, and strew his garden through the town. He never thinks to move this shack away from that wild river's maw. He views the wreck, and cries aloud, and cries aloud, and says there ought to be a law. He takes things easy day by day, when prudent men around him toil, a-herding geese or cutting hay or playing thunder with the soil; he hates to see those toilers eat their turkeys while he feeds on slaw; he loafs along the busy street and says there ought to be a law. When wintry tempests boom and howl, his wiser neighbors sit at ease, and eat their pies and roasted fowl, and shredded eggs and scrambled cheese; they rest at night in feather beds, while Wax lies on his mouldy straw, and there the futile tear he sheds, and says there ought to be a law. Oh, brethren, we have laws enough, and we have ordinances to burn! Get out and bustle—that's the stuff, and put in brains the seeds you earn!

MISS TATE SUBMITS PERTINENT FIGURES

Death Rate From Tuberculosis in Rock County as High as in Other Counties Where Sanatoriums Have Been

During the year 1911 there were 62 deaths from tuberculosis in Rock County, an increase of nine over 1910, according to Miss Tate, representative of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Society, who spent Tuesday afternoon with the members of the county board sanatorium committee reviewing some of the data on county hospitals.

Miss Tate submitted figures showing the death rate for the past few years in the seven counties where tuberculosis sanatoriums have been established or are about to be built. The figures are as follows:

	1908	1909	1910	1911
Earl	28	41	37	38
Racine	62	75	63	78
Outagamie	45	58	51	68
Kenosha	24	22	21	21
Manitowish	49	41	48	62
Winnebago	69	75	67	62

The figures in Rock and Dane counties submitted for comparison are as follows:

Rock	58	53	53	62
Dane	75	80	90	91

The population of Rock county is 55,000 while that of Dane is 75,000 which shows the relatively high proportion of tubercular trouble among the residents of this county. There are 119 applications at Wales for Dane county patients and 17 applications from Rock county.

"Allwaukee county has a sanatorium running with a waiting list and the Douglas sanatorium is also open," said Miss Tate. In regard to the death rate in Beloit and Janesville from tubercular troubles she stated that in Janesville during 1912 there were 13 deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis and 8 from tuberculosis of the bone. In Beloit in 1911 there were 20 deaths from tubercular troubles.

Miss Tate emphasized to the committee especially the educational importance of a sanatorium in Rock county. Patients who receive treatment will learn how to take care of themselves which will prevent further infection and reduce the number of deaths and sufferers almost immediately.

In regard to the proposed hospital in Rock county she said the committee intended to allow enough ground space for a large garden where patients might work in the open air which would benefit themselves and aid in reducing expenses at the hospital.

MADE AN INSPECTION OF MOTOR APPARATUS

Chief of Fire Department Henry C. Klein Derives Valuable Information From Trip to Milwaukee.

Chief of the Fire Department Henry C. Klein returned last night from Milwaukee where he had spent the day inspecting the motor fire apparatus in use there and investigating its performance. He reported that he was well repaid for his trip, obtaining very valuable information and new ideas. The chief was given a very satisfactory demonstration of a new Seagrave combination chemical wagon. This had been in service at the station to which it was assigned for only two days, but for a few days previous had taken the place of another piece of motor apparatus of a different make which had been temporarily disabled. The Seagrave machine was driven over the rough streets and hills of North Milwaukee, through snow and sand and seemed to have abundant power.

Riding on the motor fire apparatus over rough roads is no joy ride according to the chief. Huge chains almost as large as log chains were bound to the tires and were particularly responsible for the rough riding of the machine which weighs 3,000 pounds without equipment. It has a six cylinder engine that rates 7½ horse power. A Steegman hose and chemical wagon which he inspected, saw respond to two alarms from Station No. 4, weighs five hundred pounds less and has a six cylinder engine rated at 44 horse power. Both vehicles are constructed of steel throughout with the exception of the spokes in the wheels and the bottom of the hose box. The machine to be purchased by the city will have to carry equipment weighing about one and a half tons, and this with men would make the total weight of the vehicle about six tons.

BANQUET GIVEN AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Young Ladies of Class of 1913 Prepared Feast and Served it Yesterday at School.

As preliminary work in the proposed plan to develop the training in Domestic Science at the Rock County Training school, the members of the class of 1913 at the school, who are doing practice teaching in the grades at the Jefferson school, prepared and served a four-course banquet in the rooms of the training school yesterday noon. The banquet table was especially prepared for the occasion by the members of the class and was handsomely decorated. The place cards were hand-painted by one of the young ladies who is specializing in that line of work. Covers were laid for sixteen guests, and among the number were Principal F. J. Lovell, County Superintendent O. D. Antisdel, City Superintendent H. C. Buell, City Supervisor of Music Miss Sewell and all of the teachers at the Jefferson school. After the banquet talks were given by County Superintendent O. D. Antisdel, who discussed the attitude of the training school toward the city schools, and Supl. H. C. Buell, who spoke of the attitude of the city schools.

Members of the training school board are looking forward to increasing the work in domestic science training at the school, and it is hoped that next year equipment for this purpose may be secured. Arrangements were made yesterday afternoon after the banquet by Superintendent Buell and Antisdel for the practice work for students at the training school and for the rooms in which the practice work is to be done. It was decided the divisions for practice work should be made smaller so as to include only ten or twelve children.

On February 3, a new teacher will be added to the teaching force at the school so Miss Jacobson will be enabled to devote her entire time to practice teaching. Announcement has not been made yet as to who will be secured by the training school board. The quarterly examinations are now being held at the school. On Monday another student, a graduate of Beloit high school will be added to the roster of pupils.

FAIR ASSOCIATION ELECTS DIRECTORS

Shareholders Met at Evansville Yesterday—Attendance Larger Than At Any Previous Meeting.

Evansville, Jan. 15.—The meeting of the shareholders of the Rock County Fair association was called to order in the city hall yesterday afternoon by Everett Van Patten, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by T. C. Richardson and stood approved as read. By the new by-laws of the association, adopted and passed at last year's annual meeting last January, directors must hold office for a different number of years—that is directors chosen for a term of three, two and one years.

A report was made of last year's expenditures and receipts at gate and fair grounds. Of the expenses, six hundred dollars were used last year in new buildings.

About three hundred and fifty dollars worth of shares were represented by present and proxy vote. More than ever before at any annual meeting.

It was carried that the election of the date of the fair should be left to the directors chosen. A probability that it will be a week previous to that of the state fair.

Also moved and recommended the directors erect or cause to be erected a new cattle pen.

The following directors were chosen for a period of three years: C. J. Pearsall; Arthur Broughton; Dan Finnane; George L. Pullen; Frank Hynes.

For a period of two years: Orville Jones; Edward Hynes; Arthur Spencer; Fred W. Gilman; E. H. Fiedler.

For one year: Dr. Chas. S. Ware; Del Townsend; H. Park Ames; Chris. Jorgenson; Henry Austin.

The above directors meet next Tuesday afternoon at the city hall for the purpose of election of president, vice president and other officers.

A movement of thanks was carried in expression of appreciation of the work done by the old directors and officers.

Moved and carried that the meeting be adjourned.

We can not feel too proud of the interest shown in the fair meeting yesterday. The old officers who have done and will continue to do their utmost for the fair and the new directors who are entering upon their task with so much enthusiasm and spirit.

The fair is bound to thrive, though poor weather and other conditions have been opposed. Let us give the new directors our strongest support and co-operate with them in the work of building up the Rock County Fair.

Persons: Mrs. M. Green, pianist at the Crystal has returned from Belvidere.

R. H. Fiedler, of Madison was a visitor here yesterday.

A. C. Gray was a business visitor at Janesville yesterday.

She gasped for breath, scarcely able to articulate.

"You believe that? You think that of me?"

"I may have been deceived; I hope so; there was but little light, and I got merely a glimpse," he explained hastily.

"You were deceived," impetuously.

"I was not out of the house that evening. I was in the parlor with my father when those shots were fired. You are sure you saw a woman there—hiding?"

"There is no doubt of that; her foot-prints were plainly to be seen in the morning. This discovery, together with the size of the weapon used, resulted in my immediate release. I saw her, and imagined her to be you. I cannot account for the mistake, unless you were in my mind, and possibly what I had heard of your connection with Gaskins. Then it must have been Mrs. Dupont. That looks reasonable. But she stays at your home, does she not?"

"She makes our house her headquarters, but is absent occasionally. Last night she was here at this hotel. Well, we are getting this straightened out a little—that is, if you believe me."

"Of course."

"Then I am going to question you. You spoke of overhearing a conversation."

"Yes; it was after Mrs. Dupont had left. Captain Barrett came, and took her away. I was sitting here thinking when two men came into the parlor."

"Who were they? Do you know?"

"One was the soldier who drives you about—Connors; the other a black-bearded, burly fellow called 'Red.'"

"Mr. Dupont."

"What? Is that Dupont? Lord! No wonder she's gone bad. Why, I thought her husband was a ranchman down south somewhere! This fellow is a tin-horn."

"He did run cattle once, years ago. I think he was quite well off, but drank and gambled it away. Papa told me all about it, but I found out he was the man by accident. He is the one I am really afraid of."

She stopped, her eyes deserting his face, and stared out into the darkness. He waited, feeling vaguely that he had not heard all she intended to say.

"What more do you know?" he asked. "What was it you expected of me?"

She turned again, aroused by the question.

"Yes, I must tell you as quickly as I can before I am missed. I did not know about Mrs. Dupont and Lieutenant Gaskins. I realized there was something between them—a slight flirtation, but scarcely gave that a thought. What brought me here was a much more serious matter, yet this new information helps me to comprehend the other—the motives, I mean. Mrs. Dupont's maiden name was Vera Carson."

"Certainly; I knew her family well."

"She came here, and was received into our family as a daughter of my father's sister. If true, her maiden name would have been Sarah Connors. Papa had no reason to suspect the deceit. He does not now, and I doubt if even your word would convince him, for he seems thoroughly under her influence. There has been such a change in him since she came; not all at once, you know, but gradual, until now he scarcely seems like the same man. I—I do not dislike Lieutenant Gaskins; he has been pleasant and attentive, but I do not care for him in any other way. Yet papa insists that I marry the man. Lately he has been very unkind about it, and—and I am sure she is urging him on. What can I do? It is all so unpleasant."

Hamlin shook his head, but without reply.

"You will not tell me? Then I will tell you I shall say not! not! in spite of them; I shall refuse to be sold. But how does that woman control my father?" she leaned closer in her earnestness, lowering her voice.

The Two Started Back at His Rather Abrupt Entrance.

he is driven by some threat. What can it be?"

"You have never spoken to him of your suspicions? Asked him?"

"Yes and no. I tried once, and shall never forget the expression of his face. Then he turned on me in a perfect paroxysm of anger. I never even dared hint at the matter again."

The Sergeant stared out into the street, not knowing what to say, or how to advise. Almost unconsciously of the action his hand stole along the rail until it touched hers.

"If the woman has not ensnared him by her usual methods," he said soberly, "and I think myself you are right about that, for I watched them together in the dance hall—I did not comprehend what it meant then, but it seemed to me he actually disliked being in her company—then she has uncovered something in his past of which he is afraid, something unknown to you, which he does not desire you ever to know."

"Yes," softly, "that must be true."

"No; it may not be true; it may all be a lie, concocted for a purpose. A clever woman might so manipulate circumstances as to convince him she held his fate in her hands. We must find that out in this case."

"But how, Sergeant Hamlin? He will not tell me."

"Perhaps she will tell me if I can reach her alone," he said grimly, "or else that husband of hers—Dupont. He'll know the whole story. It would give me pleasure to choke it out of him—real pleasure. Then there's Connors, just the sort of sneaking rat if he can be caught with the goods; only it is not likely he knows much. I shall have to think it all out, Miss Molly," he smiled at her confidently.

"You see, I am a bit slow figuring puzzles, but I generally get them in time. You've told me all you know?"

"Everything. It almost seems silly when I try to explain what I feel to another."

"Not to me. I know enough before to understand. But, perhaps, you had better go—hush, some one is entering the parlor."

She got to her feet in spite of his restraining hand, startled and unnerved.

"Oh, I must not be seen here. Is there no other way?"

"No; be still for a moment; step back there in the shadow, and let me go in alone."

He stepped forward, his grasp already on the curtain, when a woman's voice spoke within:

"Yes, that was what I meant; he does not know you—yet. But you must keep away."

CHAPTER XXI.

Molly Disappears.

The speaker was Mrs. Dupont, but Hamlin's one thought was to prevent any discovery of Miss McDonald. Without an instant's hesitation he drew aside the curtain, and stepped into the room.

"Pardon me," he said quietly, as the two started back at his rather abrupt entrance, "but I did not care to overhear your conversation. No doubt it was intended to be private."

The woman stepped somewhat in advance of her companion, as though to shield him from observation, instantly mastering her surprise.

"Nothing at all serious, Mr. Sergeant Hamlin," she retorted scornfully. "Don't be melodramatic, please; it gets on the nerves. If you must know, I was merely giving our ranch foreman a few final instructions, as he leaves tomorrow. Have you objections?"

"Assuredly not—your ranch foreman, you say? Met him before, I think. You are the fellow I ordered out of this room, aren't you?"

The man growled something unintelligible, but Mrs. Dupont prevented any direct reply.

"That's all right, John," she broke in impatiently. "You understand what I want now, and need not remain any longer. I have a word to say myself to this man."

She waited an instant while he left the room; then her eyes defiantly met Hamlin's.

"I was told you had driven every one out of here," she said coldly. "What was the game?"

"This room was reserved."

"Pish! keep that explanation for some one else. You wanted the room for some purpose. Who have you got out there?" she pointed at the window.

"Whether there be any one or not," he answered, leaning against the window frame, and thus barring the passage, "I fail to see wherein you are concerned."

She laughed.

"Which remark is equivalent to a confession, Dave," suddenly changing, "why should we quarrel, and misjudge each other? You cannot suppose I have forgotten the past, or am indifferent. Cannot you forgive the mistake of a thoughtless girl? Is there any reason why we should not be, at least, friendly?"

There was an appeal in her voice, but the man's face did not respond.

"I cannot say that I feel any bitterness over the past," he answered lightly. "I am willing enough to blot that out. What I am interested in is the present. I should like to understand your purpose here at Dodge."

"Surely that is sufficiently clear. I am merely an exile from home, on account of Indian depredations. What more natural than that I should take refuge in my uncle's house."

"You mean Major McDonald?"

"Certainly—he was my mother's only brother."

"I think I have heard somewhere that the Major's only sister married a man named Counts."

She drew in her breath sharply.

"Yes, of course—her first husband."

"You were a daughter then of her first marriage?"

"Of course."

"But assumed the name of Carson when she married again?"

"That was when you met me."

"The change was natural enough," he went on. "But why did you also become Vera in place of Sarah?"

"Oh, is that it? Well, never attempt to account for the vagaries of a girl," she returned lightly, as though dismissing the subject. "I presume I took a fancy to the prettier name. But how did you know?"

"Garrison rumor picks up nearly everything, and it is not very kind to you, Mrs. Dupont. I hope I am doing you a favor in saying this. Your rather open flirtation with Lieutenant Gaskins is common talk, even among enlisted men, and I have heard that your relations with Major McDonald are peculiar."

"Indeed!" with a rising inflection of the voice. "How kind of you, and so delicately expressed." She laughed.

"And poor Major McDonald! Really, that is ridiculous. Could you imagine my flirting with him?"

"I have no recollection of using that term in this connection. But you have strange influence over him. For some reason the man is apparently afraid of you."

"Afraid of me? Oh, no! Some one has been fooling you, Dave. I am merely Major McDonald's guest. I wonder who told you that? Shall I

Before he could realize her purpose the woman took a hasty step forward, and swept aside the curtain, thrusting her head past to where she could gain a view outside. Hamlin pressed her back with one hand, planting himself squarely before the window. She met his eyes spitefully.

"I was mistaken this time," she admitted.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Small annoyances will cause you to be unhappy for a time, and this unhappiness may result in ill health. Later in the year the way will brighten before you.

Those born today will have serious natures with philosophical tendencies. Early in life this may manifest itself in a disinclination to play. Sunshine and out of doors in summer and in winter are necessary to these children.

Father's Idea.

WOMAN'S PAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

Both Sides of the Desire for Change

I SN'T this the dearest little house!" the woman exclaimed rapturously. "Won't it be just perfect to live here?"

Her companion agreed, and they both examined the place with enthusiasm.

"An open grate! How jolly it will be to sit in front of it and dream dreams!"

"And have all the heat we want," said the practical one.

"What a dear kitchen! Won't we have the jolliest meals! We can cook just what we want and the way we want it."

"And we'll have our friends in," said the other, "and have a lot of dandy little luncheons and teas and suppers. Won't that be fun?"

And thus they went through the house, seeing just what they wanted to see, and no more.

And the woman who was showing it to them thought cynically, as they exclaimed about the open grate, "Yes, just wait till you have to carry coal, and take up ashes, and clean up all the dust and dirt."

And as they roved over the kitchen, her thoughts ran, "When you've washed dishes three times a day, you'll change your mind."

For she was sick of housekeeping. Her eyes were turned longingly to the boarding. "She thought these two were foolish to give it up, though she held her peace, for she wanted to rent her house."

But she thought of the ease of boarding, with no cooking to do, no dishes to wash, no fire to look after. She likewise saw what she wanted to see. She didn't perceive the unpalatable food, the tiresome association with strangers for whom she cared nothing, the one cold, cheerless room.

But when this desire for change comes over us, and it does come over all of us at one time or another, most of us see but its alluring aspect. We seldom look critically at its reverse side. But would it not be well for us to do this?

As a rule, pessimism isn't to be advocated. But once in a while, it is wise for a brief time to play the part of a pessimist. In certain matters, we should look for the reverse side, look at it squarely, and see whether the disadvantages will outweigh the advantages.

When we see the open grate, let us see, not only the glowing fire and the pleasure it gives, but let us also gaze sternly at the coal-hole and the ash-pail and decide whether in the long run, their grimy faces will blot out the cheery countenance of the fire.

Let us consider the dish-pan as well as the dainty table, before we give up the boarding house for home cooking.

For the change that looks so alluring may have a most unlovely reverse aspect. And it is wise for us to take a look at this before we are beguiled by its alluring face into making it our own.

Using Left-over Meats.

The "hurry-up" dinner can be prepared only from the highest priced meats, because these are better cooked only a few minutes over a very hot fire. But the highest priced meats are not one bit more nutritious than the cheaper cuts if the house-keeper is willing to devote a little extra time to planning her meals in advance.

By the way, this is a good time of year, when things have settled down after the holidays, to find just whether the best possible system is being used in conducting the great business of housekeeping in your home. Are you enjoying this business or profession of housekeeping? If not, find out why. Do you worry or fuss over it? If so, find out why.

Do you have days when you wear yourself out putting the house in order and then there are more days and days when you can't find anything? Find out why this is true. There is only one way men succeed in business, and that is with system. Learn from them and take their business-like methods into the home, use them, and see how much easier and more efficient your work will be. If you are not obliged to do it, but direct its doing, it will be just as necessary to know how it is to be done, or it will be impossible to convey your wants and desires to others.

Do you know how to plan systematically three meals in advance, and have these good wholesome well-balanced nourishing meals, making out the grocery order at the same time? If not, there is something lacking in your training for the profession you have assumed.

So much may be done with so little if one only knows how to plan, buy and cook it. Every man has to give time and energy to his business in order to earn the money to buy the meat. The wife should be willing to do the same unless this income will warrant the extra expense of help. While in London, York and other English cities last summer we were delighted with the delicious meat pies.

They were made from pork, ham and veal or veal alone, beef and chicken. The crust was thick but not too rich but very tender and altogether most tastily seasoned and vegetables may be added if desired as they add much to the flavor. Meat rolls were another dainty dish and could be made from left-overs.

Meats and Pastry Rolls.

Material.—Chopped meat, flour, 2 cups; fat 2 t.; baking powder, 1 tsp.; salt, 1-2 tsp.; milk.

Directions.—Stiffening pin, pastry board, bowl, teaspoon, tablespoon, knife, baking pan.

Directions.—Chop sufficient cold ham, veal or chicken or any other meat fine. Season well and mix with soft butter to shape easily about the size of a finger. Make the dough with the ingredients given, using only sufficient milk to mix and roll easily. Cut in strips and wrap around each "finger" or roll of meat, put into the pan and bake in a quick oven until a rich brown. Serve with a tomato or brown sauce.

Meat Turnovers.

Almost any kind of chopped meat may be used in these, and if the quantity on hand is small mix it with potato or cooked rice. This filling should be seasoned with salt and pepper, onion or whatever is relished and laid on pieces of short biscuit dough rolled thin, and cut about the size of a saucer. Moisten the edges of dough with white of egg and patch together.

Brush over the top with the well beaten yolk and bake in a hot oven. Serve with a brown sauce with a teaspoonful of capers or a few sliced stuffed olives.

Another day we will give more of these inexpensive meat dishes.

recipe, save out whites of the eggs that you use, beat until perfectly stiff, add as needed to keep the dressing smooth and not too stiff, beating continually. This is better than using the usual lemon or vinegar for thinning, for it makes nearly twice as much dressing, and gives the effect of whipped cream for fruit salads of any kind.

After emptying contents of a jar or jelly glass wash and wipe it thoroughly, put on cover and put away until next canning season; it saves a lot of inconvenience later on. If any jar rings can be used a second time, see that they are perfectly clean and keep them in a covered box until wanted. A discarded tea or coffee pot is just the thing to save pieces of paraffin in the next season. It just needs to be melted and used again. If the top of a glass of jelly is crystallized, hold it under the faucet, letting a thin stream of water run on it, at the same time wiping it off.

Indexed Bill File.—Purchase 26 mailing envelopes, in sizes convenient for the purpose (6x8), and in the upper right-hand corner letter them from A to Z. Place them in a paste-board box of a size to hold them upright. It saves a great deal of time and is much less cumbersome than a regular billbook.

The Kitchen Cabinet

A FEW RUSSIAN DISHES.

If these recipes are tried they will prove altogether acceptable:

Russian Hash.—Chop two pounds of uncooked beef from which the fat is removed, with a fourth of a pound of suet, one large onion, and a half a cup of bread crumbs. Season with salt, pepper and parsley; add a pint of good soup stock or beef tea; mix well, season with salt and lemon juice and sprinkle well with bread crumbs. Bake until well browned, turn out on a platter and garnish with mashed potatoes.

Russian Soup.—Put two tablespoonfuls of butter or suet in a soup kettle, and when hot add two large onions chopped fine, and a pint of tender cabbage chopped fine. Fry brown and add two tablespoonfuls of flour. Season with salt and pepper and minced parsley; add a quart of stock and simmer for an hour. Fry a few small balls of sausage until brown; add the sausage to the soup with a cup of tarragon vinegar, and serve.

Coulibiac.—Have ready a rich pastry dough and roll it very thin. Spread this with a savory meat of mushrooms cooked and chopped, hard cooked eggs, and cold veal; moisten with butter and broth, and roll it like a roly-poly. Place in a baking dish, sprinkle with crumbs and bake one hour. Slice and serve with a sauce, seasoned with vinegar.

Rocks.—Cream a cup of butter, add one and a half cups of sugar, two eggs, two and a half cups of flour, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a tablespoonful of warm water; add spices, dates and walnuts, a cup. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered baking sheets.

Meat Turnovers.

Almost any kind of chopped meat may be used in these, and if the quantity on hand is small mix it with potato or cooked rice. This filling should be seasoned with salt and pepper, onion or whatever is relished and laid on pieces of short biscuit dough rolled thin, and cut about the size of a saucer. Moisten the edges of dough with white of egg and patch together.

Brush over the top with the well beaten yolk and bake in a hot oven. Serve with a brown sauce with a teaspoonful of capers or a few sliced stuffed olives.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"EXCEPT"

"The difference 'twixt the pessimist
And optimist is droll;
The optimist sees the doughnut,
The pessimist sees the hole."

ONE evening last week Molly, the little stereographer lady, and one of our mutual friends were entertained at a theatre party and a mid-night supper given in honor of the star. It was an unusual treat for both girls and they evidently felt that they just must tell somebody about it, for they both dropped in on me during the next two days and discussed the great occasion.

Molly was my first visitor. Her enthusiasm was a thing of beauty and a joy forever. "It was just wonderful. I didn't think anything so lovely would ever happen to me," she concluded after a vivid description.

"I had an absolutely perfect time."

Our mutual friend dropped in the next day. "Yes, I had a lovely time," she admitted when I brought up the subject. I knew she had come to talk about. "The R's certainly did things up in style. The only thing needed to make it absolutely perfect was to have had automobiles to bring us and take us home. I do hate traveling round in trolley cars in evening gowns. People stare so and then you are sure to be all mussed before you get there. Every time I do it I say I never will again. It spoils half the pleasure to me."

To one girl the occasion was "absolutely perfect."

To the other the occasion was perfect EXCEPT—and the EXCEPT loomed so large that it hid most of the perfection.

The difference between Molly's viewpoint and that of her friend is often the whole difference between happiness and unhappiness in this world.

The man or woman who has the latter viewpoint will never be really happy. For even in the happiest lot there is always at least one thing needed to make absolute perfection. That one thing may be very tiny in comparison to the happiness. But so is a penny tiny in comparison to the sun, and yet if you hold the penny close to your eye you can make it hide the sun. Even so, if anyone has the habit of holding their little "excepts" close up to the eye they may shut out a world of happiness.

I was admiring a very charming room the other day. "Yes, I think it would look pretty well," said its mistress, "except for that rug. It's terribly shabby but I can't afford a new one just yet, and it absolutely spoils the room for me. It's the only thing I can see when I come in."

Poor, foolish woman. I wonder what will be the "except" when she finally gets the rug. Of course there will be one. There always is to her kind of folks.

Do YOU belong to that class? Or to Molly's class? What do YOU see in life, the doughnut or the hole?

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of 22. Have been loving a young lady for about four years. She does not care as much for me now as she once did. How can I regain her love?

After we had learned to love each other her parents objected to our being together. They won't allow me to go to her home to see her. Please advise me as to what I ought to do in regard to that. She is the same age as myself.

When agreeable to the girl, should a man stay later than 11 o'clock? JOHNIE.

If after four years a girl does not love you as much as she did, you have not measured near enough to her ideal. Perhaps you have let down too much in your gallantry. Do you show her that you are just as anxious to take her about with you and give her pretty things, as you were four years ago?

If you are able to support a wife and the girl is willing, ask her to marry you at once. She is old enough to know her own mind.

Even if the girl is agreeable a man ought to go at it. She needs her beauty sleep and he needs rest, too, if he's going to be fit for his work next day.

Dear Mrs. Thompson. What is good for enlarged pores in the face? (2)—How can I get stouter? I have worked in a shop five years where there was no fresh air. (3)—I live right across the road from the shop. Should I wear a hat? (4)—Please give recipe for lemon pie. (5)—My wrists are thin. How can I make them round? ROSALIE.

(1)—Use pure castile soap and warm water when washing, and follow by dashing cold water over the face. Use a few drops of benzoin in it. Massage the face at night with a good cold cream, then wipe off every particle of the cream. It may take a month to show improvement. Be sure to take enough baths—one hot bath a week and a warm sponge bath every day.

(2)—Be outdoors every chance you can get. Eat a lot of good food. Breathe deep. Sleep with your windows open. Drink plenty of pure bread. Also, eat carrots both raw and cooked. They will help your complexion and make you fresher.

(3)—It's not necessary.

(4)—Lemon Pie: Grated rind and juice 1 lemon, 1 cup sugar, 1 heaping tablespoon flour, yolk egg, butter size of walnut, enough cold water to mix all to smooth paste, then add 1 cup boiling water, place on stove and stir until it boils. Have crust baked separately. Pour in custard. Beat white of egg stiff with 2 tablespoons sugar, spread on pie, put in oven to brown.

(5)—Follow directions in No. 3 and your wrists will improve with the rest of your body.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

DIET FOR INTELLECTUAL WORK.

"All the great works of the intellect," said Dr. Soltan Fennick in a recent lecture at the Institution of Hygiene, London, "are accomplished in the winter, when the brain is stimulated with the rich foods which are necessary for the up-keep of the body." In summer, he says, it is necessary to avoid heating foods, and then the mind must work at a low ebb. Undoubtedly mental efficiency, as well as physical efficiency, depends essentially upon nutrition, but good nutrition does not consist in the use of highly stimulating foods, nor in what is commonly known as "high feeding." The sermon on the mount and the ten commandments were delivered after long fasts. Mr. Earl Purinton, an intellectual worker, says that his mental capacity was greatly improved by a long fast. Bret Harte's best work was done while he was hardly able to obtain the necessities of life. Goldsmith wrote some of the best poetry in the English language on extremely simple fare. The best inventive work done in our time has been done by Mr. Edison on a very simple diet. And Tolstoy, Spencer and others have done some of the best work in philosophy on a spare and simple diet. Nothing is more important for successful intellectual work than good feeding, but good feeding does not consist in the eating of excessive quantities of highly stimulating food.

Mrs. Howard Wagner

Writes Personal Letter to Her Drug-gist About a Bad Cough.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., writes her druggist as follows: "For two months I suffered from a bad cold, from which I could get no relief, then I began to cough and would cough until midnight every night. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine, but without benefit. One day seeing Vinol, your cod liver and iron medicine advertised in my paper, I sent for a bottle. I did not cough so much and felt stronger, and at the end of a week I could go to bed and sleep without coughing once. I have now taken in all six bottles, and I never felt better in my life. I have a fine appetite and have gained twelve pounds. As Vinol has helped me so much I want others to know about it."

The curative and strengthening properties of Vinol built up Mrs. Wagner's health and her cough disappeared as a natural result. We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Smith Drug Co. Janesville, Wis.

QUIT CALOMEL

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments, with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, Olive-oil calomel tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

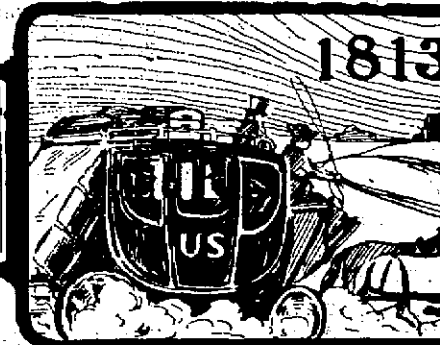

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

Six Millions Outside Merchants E

THE FIGURES A

Janesville is the Center of a
All Parts of

The importance of Janesville's position as a manufacturing and retail business center and its relation as such to this entire section of Southern Wisconsin with a radius for retail business of eighty miles to the east as far as Rockford, Harvard and Woodstock on the south; Madison and Watertown on the north; Delavan, Elkhorn, Walworth and Waukesha on the east, is not really appreciated by the average citizen.

It is doubtful in fact if any excepting those merchants who come directly in contact with the trade are at all familiar with the volume and extent of the city's business with the country surrounding field. There is probably no city more advantageously situated anywhere in this whole country to handle outside business than Janesville, and it is an acknowledged fact by those best able to judge are on a par with those of cities many times the size of this and far ahead of those in most communities. The reason for the large stores and stocks is obvious. While Janesville has but 15,000 population, we serve a field of approximately 200,000 population. While it is not to be understood that this entire population transacts its entire business in Janesville, still much of its purchasing along many lines is done here, and all lines of trade are benefited either directly or indirectly as a result.

Let us consider Janesville's transportation facilities and its bearing to the trade. With sixty odd passenger trains through here daily on both lines of steam railroads coming from every point of the compass, and an hourly interurban service from Rockford and Beloit, it is estimated that an average of 2,500 people each day pass in and out of the city. This figure is of those who actually place foot in the city and it is safe to say that at least 1,500 of them walk upon the streets each day—these, mind you, are people from away who have business here of some character, and means a million yearly. The entire male population not cover those who come by automobiles. The total would be half again as many if the entire outside purchasing element interesting to the good word of the sales-people and the goods themselves. It will be seen that we have here an almost overwhelming argument for trade both to the outside buyer and the home purchaser and an argument for home dealing which must readily impress us with its magnitude and business power.

Janesville's manufacturing interests are extremely varied and of large proportions. The annual output of local factories, including tobacco and sugar, runs into the millions and the products have made the city known from coast to coast as well as in every habitable country on the globe. Janesville certainly is a good city to live in and the best city to trade in, and it is the aim of every dealer and every true citizen to enhance its standing in both ways.

Stop That Cough In A Minute

Would you give morphine or chloroform to your baby or take it yourself? Of course not. Yet most patent cough cures contain one or both. They stop a cough in a minute, which is dangerous. A cough should be cured internally by healing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, throwing it out, which is done by coughing. Badger Cough Balm does not contain morphine or chloroform. It is made by percolation from bloodroot, lobelia, pine bark, wild cherry, etc. It cures a cough in a few days without filling the lungs with poisonous phlegm. The irritation is relieved, the lungs healed without danger of pneumonia. It's safe for children or old people. Get a bottle today for 25 cents. Badger Cough Balm is made by Mr. Penning, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

FLO AND LO
"Mrs. Zizzlecrumps!" quavered the nurse. "Mrs. Zizzlecrumps!"
"What is it?" said Mrs. Zizzlecrumps sharply. "She halted to hear the woman quaver."
"I've vexed the twins," the nurse quavered. "I was giving them a bath, and I mixed them, and now I don't know Flo from Lo, woe!"
"I warned you about bathing them both in the same week, I mean the same tub!" shouted the distracted mother.

The children were hopelessly mixed. There was talk of having them christened all over again, but Mr. Zizzlecrumps, an unmethodical sort of man, put it off from day to day, until the twins were young women, beautiful young things so much alike in appearance that their principal amusement was jumping up and down in front of the mirror and trying to point each other out.

III.

The twins stood before their father in the library. "Father," said one of them—it might have been Flo and it might have been Lo—"father, once and for all, you must tell us which is which. Am I Flo or am I Lo, oh, oh!"
"Upon my soul," replied the distressed father, "I do not know."
And the young man waiting in the parlor, willing to marry either of them, but fearful lest he should marry Flo and lay himself open to charges of bigamy by learning what it was too late that it was really Lo went away with a heavy heart.

And the moral is: Don't be slip shod.

As We Speak It
A German who had come to America to master our language was being shown behind the scenes of a vaudeville theater by one of his American friends. "That man," said the American, indicating an actor with a wave of his hand, "is taking off his make-up to make-up for another take-off." The German departed, spluttering—Success.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, January 15, 1873.—A Change in Things: The snow came down like a blanket last evening, but towards midnight it turned into rain and the quantity of slops that covered the landscape this morning is discouraging to lively men, although it makes mill owners laugh in their sleeves at a prospect of a rise in the river.

And Still Another: Another installment of new books has been received for the Y. M. C. A. library. The following are the titles: Ought We to Visit Her, A Terrible Temptation, Foul Play, Dead Secret, Shirley, Kate Beaumont, Silent Partner, The Last of the Mohicans, Zerub Thorp's Experiment.

The week of prayer is being followed by nightly meetings for the purpose of arousing the interest of the public in religious matters.

Mayor Sutherland has addressed a circular to mayors of different cities where the Holly works are in operation asking information on the subject.

THESE WINTER DAYS

These winter days the poets say: "The sleighing girl is very dear; When fields are white and leaves are near; Yes, dear, indeed, it makes us sour To pony up five plunks an hour For hire of a one-horse sleigh."

Find a lively man.

Flame Without Heat.

The invention of a flame derived from electric energy that will not give off heat is claimed by a French scientist who is keeping the details secret.

Children Not All Alike.

Children should not be harshly treated because they are different in some respects to others. The difference in the case of your own boy may mark him out for a genius later on.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are many number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted.

All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper, and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.
